

Project QUASAR

_____Project Quasar, is a First Person Shooter Virtual Reality game. Heavily based off of other games like Ratchet and Clank and Superhot. It's a game where you travel in a Sci-Fi based world. The main objective is to fight hordes of machines using 3 different weapons. While also platforming around the level. If you fall down. The levels are rather open, and each area is divided by rooms for optimization purposes.

The gameplay is based on switching between the 3 different weapons given, while making sure to be watching out for the machines that are following you constantly. However if we are unable to make machines we could also just use really targets mainly to show off the visuals for the weapons.
